The Rogers Agency is proud to announce the opening of Hunter Law Firm's new location on the Southside of Hampton Roads. With offices already in Hampton, Williamsburg and Gloucester, the firm's fourth office is now open in Portsmouth. Mark Stallings is head of the new office. While Mark will work primarily from Portsmouth, he (like the other attorneys in the firm) will work from the Hunter office that is most convenient for the client.

Tom Hunter has practiced law on the Southside for nearly 30 years and decided it "is well past time for the Hunter Law Firm to have an office there." Tom continued, "we have many clients who live on the Southside of Hampton Roads, and I want them to have easier access to our firm." Tom chose Mark to head the new office, because he "has practiced on the Southside for a long time and has maintained a noticeable presence and a stellar reputation."

Mark Stallings has worked with the Hunter Law Firm since 2007 and has over 17 years of experience in many areas of law. He is known for his ability to expedite his clients' cases. In his words, "I strive to give the best representation possible in a cost-effective way. My experience allows me to plan a strategy during the initial consultation and to then follow-through on that plan. This avoids needless expense and wasted time." In Mark's capable hands, what could be a long and arduous legal hassle becomes a streamlined process that swiftly resolves the dispute. Mark handles family law, criminal matters as well as commercial and residential real estate transactions.

The Hunter Law Firm represents clients in ten major areas of practice, including Family Law, Personal Injury, Real Estate Law, Criminal Defense, and Wills & Trusts. With offices in Hampton, Williamsburg, Gloucester and now in Portsmouth, the Hunter Law Firm has grown into four offices with a team of nine gifted attorneys and thirteen legal support professionals who are collectively armed with the expertise and compassion to help their clients through the many legal aspects of life.
